YELLOW FEVER.

Spread of the scourge—A Dreadful State of Affairs.

MEMPHIS, September 10.—Yesterday the mortality report was the largest of any day since the fever appeared, the undertakers reporting 112 interments, of which 24 were colored people. Physicians at the Howard corps report 411 new cases during the 24 hours.

The Howards have established, under the direction of Dr. Lewis Bryan, of Houston, Texas, a hospital for the care of physicians and nurses, many of whom are failing.

The condition of our city grows more desperate every hour. Of new cases it is needless longer to keep count. Whole families are stricken down within a few hours, and the call for nurses is greater than can be supplied.

NEW ORLEANS, September 10.—The Grand United Order of Odd Fellows make an appeal to all the lodges in the country, working under the S. C. M., for aid. Send donation to Edward J. Holmes, Chairman Relief committee.

The Peabody Association have issued 8,985 rations. Hereafter they will issue rations only on Mondays, Wednesdays, and Fridays.

To-day the Howards sent fifteen nurses to Canton, ten to Holly Springs and five to Port Gibson. To-morrow ten will be sent to Memphis.

There is no abatement of the disease at Vicksburg, Holly Springs, Port Gibson or Greenville. At Grenada only three or four remain to be attacked.

NASHVILLE, September 10.—Among the refugees from the South, only four are sick with fever, two or which are supposed to be yellow fever; the others are not decided.

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., Sept. 10.—A bricklayer named Griffin, of Memphis, died here yesterday of yellow fever.

JACKSON, Miss., September 10.—The fever has broken out at several new points in this State—Bolton Lake, Lawrence station, on the Vicksburg and Meridian Railway, Gilman station, on the New Orleans road, and Dry Grove, in Hinds county.

CINCINNATI, September 10.—John Locke, of the Memphis Ledger, who reached here last Friday, was taken to the hospital yesterday, sick with yellow fever.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 10.—The quarantine hospital report of yesterday says that two cases have been admitted since the last report. One died.

CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—Total contributions to date received by the Citizens' Committee of this city, $33,623; from other sources, $8671. Total, $42,294, of which $11,500 has been disbursed.

The St. Louis Mechanics' Exchange fund amounts to $27,285; the other collections, $12,671. Total, $39,956. Philadelphia yesterday sent $5000 to Memphis, $5000 each to New Orleans and Vicksburg, and $4000 to New Orleans for distribution among outside suffering towns.

Acting Postmaster-General Tyner, at Washington, says that, if contribution boxes were put up in all the post-offices in the United States, and the proceeds delivered to the local collecting committees, it would meet with approval.

NASHVILLE, Sept. 10.—State Treasurer Marshall Polke, by the advice of Governor Foster, has determined to issue provisions to the extent of $900 per week to the fever sufferers of Memphis.

ST. JOHN, N. B., Sept. 10.—The temperance societies, Odd Fellows and Knights of Pythias are collecting funds for the yellow fever sufferers. A general subscription list among citizens is started.

CINCINNATI, Sept. 10.—Wellington Blitzer, of Gallipolis, Ohio, died last night of yellow fever, contracted on the steamer Porter. There are a dozen people sick with fever in the neighborhood where the Steamer Porter is moored.

LONDON, Sept. 10.—The Mayor of Manchester has received a telegram from the British Consul at New Orleans asking help for the yellow fever sufferers. The Mayor publishes an account that he will be glad to operate with any merchants or other citizens desirous of taking steps for the relief of sufferers and that he will remit to New Orleans any funds thus subscribed.

Democrats Favoring Butler.

BOSTON, Sept. 10.—The Democrats of this city held a caucus last evening for the election of delegates to the State Convention. In nearly every ward Butler candidates were chosen. The general complexion of the entire Boston delegation is said to be decidedly in favor of Butler.

An injunction has been granted restraining further prosecution of the suit commenced by Jay Gould and others, to foreclose the income mortgage on the Kansas Pacific railroad.

Gentlemen from the South are said to criticize unfavorably Hayes' pleasure trip indulged in at a time when the government ought to be extending aid to the yellow fever sufferers.

Six hundred Chinamen are at work extending the railroad from Williams to Willow, in Colusa county.

"COAL OIL JOHNNIE."

Some of the Vagaries of a Celebrated Spendthrift.

[Detroit News.]

"Coal Oil Johnnie," who made himself as well known in Detroit as in any other town he entered, was the son of a poor farmer in Pithole, Pa., and his real name was Steele. The miserable farm, which had never yielded the family a subsistence, proved to be one of the richest oil locations in Pennsylvania, and when Johnnie arrived at manhood he found himself an orphan in possession of a fortune of some $2,500,000 which he commenced to fling away with mad recklessness. Rose was on hand and helped him to get through with a goodly share of it in the maddest excitement of gambling, riot and fast life. Coal Oil Johnnie used to think he never could get to the end of his pile. He would sit down and calculate the thousands he owned and swear that he could never get rid of it. He did, though, in a little more than two years, and now he is a station agent on the Atlantic and Great Western railroad. Rose tells some characteristic stories of his companion, with whom he traveled all over the continent, wherever sport and excitement were to be had. Once, when sitting with Steele and Murphy, a variety actor who used to play at Belle's place on Randolph street, a telegram came for Steele. Murphy took it and opened it. The dispatch was from Hartford, Conn., and read: "Twenty thousand dollars here to your order. What shall we do with it?" Coal Oil Johnnie refused to take the dispatch after Murphy had handed it to him.

"Write 'em an answer, telling 'em that if I don't call for it in five years to give it to an orphan asylum," said the magnificent spendthrift.

Two years later Johnnie called for the money. He had spent all but that sum and it only served to keep him in dissipation for a few weeks.

Rose had at that time something over $20,000 that he had acquired himself, and felt entitled to travel on a footing of equality with this remarkable fool. Once Johnnie got on a spree in Detroit. He went to a bagnio on Macomb street, and to make the orgie sensational, completely destroyed a $250 piano, by stamping it with his feet. The next day he sent the "madman" an $800 Steinway. In Philadelphia he saw a pair of horses being harnessed in a lively stable and wanted to drive them. The stablekeeper refused, as the horses belonged to another party who boarded them, but who would sell them for $1,500. Johnnie paid the money, drove them furiously for two hours, and then sold them to the colored coachman for a dollar bill. Lighting cigars with $100 notes was a favorite diversion. He was charitable and generous, with all his profligacy, and often did much good with his money.

An Editorial Nimrod.

[D. D. in the San Francisco Post.]

We suppose it is as much as our life is worth, but they are telling a little hunting story about the editor of a weekly contemporary, that we shall have to print if we are killed for it. It appears that last week the editor in question went deer-hunting in the distant backwoods of Marin county. Somehow the deer staid such a short time in one place that he missed every one he saw, and late in the afternoon brought up empty-handed at the cabin of a sturdy mountaineer, who was feeding a caged wild-cat he had trapped the day before. An idea suddenly occurred to the disappointed Nimrod. If he could only take back to the office a genuine wild-cat, and killed by his own hand, too. "How much will you take for that beast?" he asked. The man said $20, and the money was paid over. "Now," said the editor, putting a fresh cartridge in his gun, "the one end of a strong cord to that tree, and another around the cat's neck, and then open the cage door." This was done with some difficulty, and the fierce animal stood furiously straining at the cord. The hunter threw himself into Dakin's International Position No. 4, and blazed away. The cat gave a terrible yell and disappeared into the woods. His bullet had cut the cord, that was all.

Prisoner Rescued.

AUSTIN, Sep. 10.—Sheriff Kerby, of El Paso, reports to the Adjutant General that his deputy arrested, on the 8th inst., Antonio Alizares, a fugitive from the penitentiary, and under indictment for the murder of Judge Howard and others, and put him in the San Elizario jail. The same night Mexicans from Mexico crossed the river and rescued the prisoner.

It is said that something purporting to be the "Sherman letter" has been offered to the Democrats on the Potter Committee, who, it is said, will hardly venture to use it, in the face of Sherman's threats.

The French Radical deputies express their regret at the breaking up, by the police, of the Social Congress at Granelle, conduct which they deem an infringement of the citizens' right of meeting.

A Strange Reunion.

The San Francisco Chronicle should deride the responsibility for the following tough one:

Among the passengers on the overland train bound for San Francisco last week, was an ex-Governor of the State of Tennessee, accompanied by his family. At one of the small stations on the Central Pacific road, a short distance this side of Ogden, the train was boarded by one of the gambling sharps that infest that line, on the lookout for victims to fleece, by means of the swindling devices practiced by the thieving crew. The fellow succeeded in robbing one of the passengers of the better part of his traveling capital, when the transaction attracted the attention of other passengers, and some commotion ensued. The affair not occurring in San Francisco, there were no police there to protect the gambler, and he was seized and a fierce demand made for the restoration of the plunder, with a drawing of pistols and threats of dire vengeance. In the midst of the tumult a lady in the car gave a shriek and fell into a swoon. It was the wife of the distinguished gentleman from Tennessee. The attention of the gambler was drawn to the incident, and immediately his pistol fell from his hand as if from a stroke of palsy, and he staggered back in a helpless condition. On recovering his nerve the gambler restored the money taken from his victim and hastened to the assistance of the lady. A mutual recognition appeared to ensue between the gambler and the party, and the meeting was evidently a sad one. The remaining passengers in the car perceived sufficient to understand that an erring son had unexpectedly met with his parents, and that car was relieved of further swindling attempts the remainder of the passage.

Lieutenant Commander Kells, U. S. N., has written an open letter to Senator Kellogg in which he says that, when that gentleman intimated that dissections among the benevolent societies might delay the distribution of government rations, he lied.

The fair of the Golden Gate District, comprising the counties of San Francisco, Alameda and Contra Costa opened at Oakland Sept. 9, the pavilion on Franklin street being filled with exhibits which have not as yet been arranged.

SPECIAL NOTICES.

Don't Forget It.

If you are troubled with nervousness, are disheartened, tired of life, fear death or feel out of sorts, as the saying is, you may safely conclude that you have the Dyspepsia or Liver Complaint. The liver is very apt to become torpid at this season of the year, as poisonous arising from marshes, stagnant water are more numerous, and are, through inhalation, taken into the blood. Unless the liver is strong and active, and furnishes a supply of fresh and pure blood to drive out the impurities, the above mentioned symptoms surely follow, and if not headed, end in more terrible diseases and death. White's Peppermint Cure proves itself the great liver panacea. Its action on the liver is different from any medicine ever compounded. Its cures are truly wonderful. Try it. Price, twenty-five cents and seventy-five cents. For sale by our druggists, OBERLIN & SON, MAKERS. au7 eod

YESTERDAY'S PRIMARY.

Although the full returns have not been received from all the precincts of Washoe up to the time of the GAZETTE going to press, there is no room for doubt but that the anti-Wright ticket has carried the day. We consider this a first-rate victory. It is a declaration on the part of the people of the county that they have had enough of Judge Wright and that no matter how active the court-house or any other ring may be in forming combinations, the people will, when it is necessary, burst the schemes of tricky politicians wide open. Shamelessness has been rebuked. Incompetency has had a copper laid upon it. The people have spoken. Their voice is against cheek and dishonesty and in favor of decency and brains.

ORMSBY IS ALSO ANTI-WRIGHT.

A dispatch received by the GAZETTE last night conveys the welcome intelligence that anti-Wright delegates have been easily elected in Ormsby. The GAZETTE's opinion of Judge Wright seems to find endorsement in outside precincts as well as at home. Ormsby Republican's evidently want their party to succeed. This news is pleasant to the GAZETTE, as a public servant who is to be rewarded.

KINKAD FOR GOVERNOR.

Daggett, a man of brains, has withdrawn in favor of Batterman. So has Tyrrell. Batterman has the entire Storey county delegation to the State convention. It is well. The Republican party can not elect Batterman. Therefore he should not be nominated. Kinkad ought, therefore, to be the man. We believe he will be, if the interest of the party is consulted.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The eagerness with which the Eureka Sentinel and other Democratic journals of the State rush forward to be the first to swallow Bradley is disgusting. It is a disgrace to Nevada journalism. Papers which have been heaping the vilest abuse upon Mr. Bradley are now shamelessly, and with a total disregard of their hot utterances of a few days ago, beslobbering the old gentleman with their stupid compliments. No wonder many people have a contempt for the opinion of newspapers, and laugh at their claims to honesty.

The GAZETTE is greatly obliged to its contemporaries for the favorable opinions expressed upon it—the opportunity having been given by the enlargement of this journal. The mere matter of size doesn't make any difference, however. We'll cut her down or spread her out just as Reno says; but big or little, the GAZETTE will say just what it thinks, and the people will never find it shuffling.

The Reese River Reveille has come to us to-day looking even better than it did before the cloud-burst. The new dress of Type is neat and handsome. Everybody will be glad to see this bright and vigorous paper on its feet again.

The ringsters call it persecution to say that a man is incompetent when he is incompetent, and to say that he is a thief when he is a thief. The more of such persecution we have the better.

In view of the result of the primary yesterday, would it not be well for M. Powning to start a brain garden and ask—amid the multitude of his asks—for some position that he is competent to fill?

Eureka yesterday went four to one against Bradley. In the east, on the Republican side, the fight has now narrowed down to Kinkad and Connor. Batterman won't go.

The Austin Reveille is the oldest newspaper in the world. It was published for several years before the flood. Pardon our pallor. The shock is a very severe one.

"Be sure you're anti-Wright, then go ahead," seems to have been the idea of most of Washoe's voters yesterday.

A GHASTLY PICTURE

Of the Desolation in the Stricken Cities of the South.

[Philadelphia Times, August 30.]

No more dismal newspaper ever came from off a press than the Memphis Avalanche of Tuesday last—a pitiable half sheet, made up largely of "standing adverbs," devoid of telegraphic news save a few market and river reports, the signal service indications and telegraphic promises of relief, with all the local and editorial matter, of the latter less than a quarter of a column, bearing solely upon the fever with a record a column long of new cases and with a list a half column long of deaths. There is something very ghastly in the frequent allusions to the fever throughout the column or two of local notes, simply as "it," or by mere inference to be deduced from the context. "Hans Lemon's three children have it;" "W. W. White, clerk of the Peabody, has it;" "Will Fifer's cash is a very serious one;" "Father Maher's condition is critical;" "Joe Russell, while attending the Odd Fellows' sick, was stricken;" "The night-toilers have been struck." F. R. Brennan, city editor of the Appeal, is down. He has a bad case. And then we come upon a five-line tragedy like this: "B. A. Hollenberg's imprudence in giving way to anxiety about his wife and arising from his bed to go into her room probably will prove his death. Fever in childbirth will kill his wife." In the advertising columns, too, the pestilence stands out sharply. "For the accommodation of the few persons remaining in the city we will keep open our store during yellow fever," a kind Providence permitting. It is not often that grocers refer to the opening or the closing of their stores to a kind Providence, but these grocers of Memphis realize that they are living on the very threshold of eternity, and are standing almost face to face with Almighty God. It is this same feeling that shows out in the first of the one-line locals: "God help us!" the exclamation so often made lightly, but here wrung out from the depths of suffering hearts oppressed by a great fear, and yet not utterly cast down, because God may indeed send the help for which in their sore extremity, they pray. Very pitiful is to mark the effort to be brave in the face of the danger that menaces them all, "Careful nursing does the work." "Many are getting well, so keep a stiff upper lip," writes the city editor reassuringly, in his local column, and in the little scrap of brevity the editor writes: When the number of deaths resulting from improper or careless nursing and from the imprudence of the patient are eliminated from the twenty-six deaths of yesterday, the ratio of the number of new cases is not so large as to make sickness with good treatment and good nursing by any means hopeless. How pluckily the poor fellow tries to make out a case—and yet how sadly weak is the sophistry on which he builds! There is not much need of comment upon the text found in the extracts which we have made from this copy of the Memphis Avalanche. The text is a sermon in itself, and we trust that no one can read it without laying its precepts to heart.

Council with Chief Moses.

PORTLAND, Sept. 10th.—Under date of Wallall, Sept. 8th, the following dispatch has been received here: A council was held with Chief Moses by General Howard yesterday afternoon and this morning at Priest's Rapids. Moses was present on the part of the Indians, who stated they were willing to go on a reservation of their own choice, and would live there forever. They will not go on a reservation remote from their country. The territory the Indians want lies east of the Cascade mountains, running to the mouth of the Spokane river, then down that river to White Bluffs; thence across the Columbia to a point fifteen miles above the mouth of the Yakima. General Howard stated that he desired, in the presence of all assembled, to thank Chief Moses for the remarkable fidelity he had shown and his efforts to keep the peace at all times. Moses took no part in the late hostile movement, and used his influence and power to keep the hostile movement from breaking out among his men. The council passed off harmoniously, and the Indians appeared well satisfied with the result. They renewed assurances of friendship.

Saved from a Watery Grave.

(S. F. Bulletin, September 10.)
A sailor belonging to the Dashing Wave narrowly escaped drowning last night. Shortly after midnight in endeavoring to get on board the Dashing Wave, which is moored at pier 10, while in an intoxicated condition he fell off the dock into the bay. Floating with the tide he passed the steamer Idaho, and hearing his call for help the watchman threw over a life buoy, which fell within the man's reach. Seizing the life buoy he drifted over Broadway wharf where his cries for help were heard by the third officer of the Orizaba, and he was drawn safely on board.

A Polyandrous Woman.

The Keokuk Constitution tells of a polyandrous woman living in Charleston township, Lee county, Iowa, who is wife with all that the term implies, to her present husband, William Glassford, living in the Illinois shore, and to her divorced husband, named Wiley, of the Iowa side, by whom (the latter) she has four children. During the summer she lived with Wiley and in the winter with Glassford. Both men are aware of all the circumstances.

Wyoming Stage Robbery.

HAT CREEK, (Wy.), Sept. 10.—Both coaches were stopped last night, between Lightning creek and Cheyenne river, by three armed men. The up-coach contained two passengers, and had one messenger along with it. They first halted the down coach, robbed all the passengers, and were engaged in plundering the mail bags when the north-bound coach arrived, which they also stopped and, after robbing the two passengers proceeded to cut and rob the mails. They broke open the treasure boxes and took the contents, but it is thought that they got less than $100 in money from the passengers, from whom they took jewelry and watches, also one watch from the driver and one from the messenger Smith, who remained in the coach after the passengers got out. He intended standing the robbers off. One of the thieves placed a passenger in front of him and marched up to the coach, compelling Smith to give up or kill the passenger. They also took away Smith's arms. They took all precautions by tying the passengers' hands behind their backs. One of the thieves who was not masked, was recognized as Jas. E. Johnson, commonly known as "Lengthy."

Discovered at Last.
[Irreverent Exchange.]

Vice-President Wheeler has been discovered somewhere on the Atlantic coast—Martha's Vineyard, we think—and reports himself still a Republican. He said he didn't want any Republican flat-shock at the administration, and immediately disappeared, perhaps forever.

FELLOWS' Compound Syrup.

HYPOPHOSPHITES.

THIS DISCOVERY

Is the result of a series of Scientific Experiments based upon the theory that "the successful cure of Wasting Diseases, the nervous system must be made vigorous and healthy."

One of the first symptoms of disease affecting either the Liver, Lungs, Heart, Stomach, or Genital Organs, is a loss of nervous power. This is followed by muscular relaxation, weakness, and emaciation of all the organs which depend upon them for health or involuntary muscular action, the weaker suffering first.

The inventor, Dr. J. M. Flannagan, has discovered that the muscles and nerves depend upon each other for efficient strength and action, and that they must be treated directly in order to speedily and permanently cure diseases of the organs which they control, become convinced, after months of experience, that no other preparation produced such potent and direct effects upon the nervous system as his

Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites and except in cases of actual organic loss, that it would restore patients suffering from those maladies.

Amongst the diseases overcome by the use of this remedy are the following:

Chronic Constipation,
Chronic Dyspepsia,
Asthma,
Chronic Bronchitis,
Consumption,
Chronic Diarrhea,
Chronic Laryngitis,
Melancholy,
Nervous Debility.

Debility, resulting from Typhoid and other low fevers, Diphtheritic Prostration, Hysteria, Hypochondria, Nervous Exaltation, Marasmus or Wasting of the Muscles, Aphonia or Loss of Voice, Sluggishness of the Liver, Interrupted and feeble Action of the Heart, SURFACING FEELINGS caused by mucous obstruction of the Lungs and Air Passages leading to emphysema, and Debility from various causes.

Indigestion and habitual Constipation almost always arise from weakness of the muscles and nerves of the stomach and bowels. In such cases, "Fellows' Compound Syrup of Hypophosphites" has proved itself of the greatest service by inducing healthy peristaltic action of the intestines. The evacuations soon become copious and healthy, without producing the effect of purgative medicine.

Weakness of the Joints and Muscles, IMPURITY OF THE BLOOD, and INWARD WASTING may be cured by the use of this remedy. It has been introduced, and the large sale is the best guarantee of the estimation in which it is held by the public.

This syrup will cure PULMONARY CONSUMPTION in the first and second stages, will give great relief and prolong life in the third. It will cure ASTHMA, BRONCHITIS, LARYNGITIS and COUGHS. It will cure all diseases originating from weakness of MUSCULAR ACTION and NERVOUS FORCE.
